a Solid Delegation at the Convention.

Goes to Bar Harbor While His Presidential Chances Are Beginning to Boil.

Gov. Morton's Presidential lightning is attracting all the shocks of zig eaders in the State think he will have walk-over for the nomination when the Convention meets ten months hence unless, of course, a dark horse spur out of the West. Almost every prom nent Republican in the State has de clared for the Governor. Twenty-eigh of the thirty-four Republican Stat Committeemen, Thomas C. Platt and majority of the real leaders have in dorsed his candidacy in signed state ments and interviews obtained by "The

These indorsements are apparently incere, and the Governor's friends say it will have the destraple effect of im pressing upon all factions of the party throughout the country that Gov. Mor ton can go to the Convention with solid delegation behind him.

The Governor himself is sawing woo concerning his Presidential ambitions and has even refrained from confiding

MORTON'S BOOM
GROWS DAILY,

As the train drew out of the station an enthusiastic Rhinecliffian cried "Hurrali for the next President," but the Governor took no notice of this outburst of enthusiasm.

The Governor and party will reach Bar Harbor early this evening. Mr. Morton is in splendid health, but is not inclined to talk politics. The first paper he took up this morning was "The World," and he smiled as he saw that his boom was still on the move, that his boom was still on the move, the absolutely refused, however, to state whether or not he is a candidate for President.

D. Spalding, T. X. H. Neal, J. E. Maddox and W. C. Saunders.
Those of the Executive Committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce present were: Henry Hentz, Chairman, and Woodbury Langdon, J. Edward Simmons and C. T. Logan.
The delegation from the South is enthusiastic over the outlook for the caming Exposition, and short talks were made by Pressent Woodson, ex-flov. Bullock, Dr. Spalding, Col. Howell and Mr. Cabaniss.
Mr. Woodson extended a formal invitation to the Chamber of Commerce to send its Executive Committee to Atlanta in August, as Chicago, Chiefin natt, St. Louis and other Western a clies will have delegations there to look over the scope of the Exposition.

Mr. Langdon observed the following resolutions, which were seconded by J. Edward Shimmons:

Now Collector Kilbreth dearly loves a joke. He listened to his cashier's tale of wee and said the desired pratection would be furnished.

The Collector sent for Ed McDonald. Mr. McDonald is portly and is on the customs rolls as a detective. For some time the Collector has been anxious to find a position where Mr. McDonald's talents could best be utilized. He told McDonald to sit at the door of the cashier's office from 10 A. M. until 3.50 P. M., when the money collected is laken to the Sub-Treasury, and see that no harm betell Mr. Northrup. McDonad was particularly cautioned to look out for tramps.

Seated in his chair, with a No. 6 customs officer's cap on his No. 73 head, the detective has caimly watched over the cashier's doorway. Some one woke him suddenly the other day by banking on the wooden partition with a barrel stave, and humorists have given him just the amount of exercise necessary for health by calling:
